

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

Several conclusion and suggestion can be noted down here based on the result of analysis and conclusion.

5.1 Conclusion

Base on the problem statement, objective of the study, and the result of the data analysis, the writer would like to make some conclusions. They are stated below:

1. The tenth students of SMAN 5 in the school year 2018/2019 are able to listen English short conversation from the recording by filling the missing words.
2. There are 4 groups of students base on their level of ability. Excellent level, very good level, good level, fairly good level.

The ability level of the tenth grade student of SMA Negeri 5 Kupang in the school year 2018/2019 in completing and filling the missing words when hearing the short conversation is “good”.

5.2 Suggestion

Based on the result of the discussion, the writer would like to offer some suggestion, as follow:

1. For the English teacher

The even though the result has showed that the students listening ability is a good level. They still need to maintain the listening skill by doing some more listening exercise at home. For the teachers of English still need to vary their listening practice both in terms of materials and techniques. To make the students have a very good or excellent.

2. For teachers of english at researched school

Even though the result has showed that the student's listening ability is at good level, they still need to maintain the listening skill by doing some more listening exercise at home. For the teacher of English, they still need to vary their listening practice both in terms of material and techniques, to make the students to have a very good or excellent ability in their listening skill.

3. For others researcher

For others researcher, this writing can be a reference to do another listening study, they may do a listening study by using other type of listening such as literal listening, exploratory listening, and creative listening.
