ABSTRACT

One of the most interesting topics in synchronic linguistic studies is compliments and responses to compliments. The purpose of this qualitative study was to determine the structure of compliments, types of responding to compliment, and gender differences in the giving of compliments and responding to compliment of foreign language learners in Kupang to compliments in English. 20 EFL students, who are in the fifth semester of the English Language Education Study Program at the Faculty of Teacher Training and Education, Widya Mandira Catholic University, received data for the study through a Discourse Final Assignment (DCT) distributed online. This study uses the theories proposed by Holmes (1988) and Herbert (1990) as a basis for analyzing the topic of compliment and the various types of responses to compliment. The first results of this study show that the structure of compliment most frequently used by EFL are: Performance/Skill/Ability 73 (55.72%), appearance 32: (24.42%), possession and personality 13 (9.92%). The structures used by EFL students in giving compliments include: Pronoun + is + (a/an) + (really) + noun phrase followed by an adjective. Noun phrase + is/see (really) + adjective. Meanwhile, the structures not used by EFL students in giving compliments are: Not + noun phrase + adjective. Meanwhile, the response to compliment most frequently used by EFL is Appreciation token 20: (25.31%). The second finding revealed that there was no significant difference between men and women regarding the use of compliments; rather, they are used equally. These differences are based on gender and are seen in the responses to compliments from EFL students. There are three patterns in the syntax patterns that are often used by men and women, namely: Noun phrase + looks/is + (really) + adjective; you + verb + noun phrase + (really) + adverb; and adverb + noun phrase. Based on the results examined, male and female respondents tend to often use “Thank you” in responding to compliment. There is a structure in responding to compliment that is not used by men and women, namely: Isn’t + noun phrase + adjective. Based on the data collected, it is seen that both male and female participants follow the trend of previous studies with the Accept, Reject, and Avoid patterns. Both groups are more likely to choose the accept option than reject. In addition, both groups prefer two types of CR strategies: Appreciation Tokens and Return Praise. On the one hand, female participants more often use the CRS strategy implied in Agreeable Speech, while male participants prefer to apply the CRS strategy on Question Accuracy.

ABSTRAK

Salah satu topik yang paling menarik dalam studi linguistik sinkronis adalah puji dan respons terhadap puji. Tujuan dari penelitian kualitatif ini adalah untuk menentukan struktur puji, jenis respons puji, dan perbedaan gender dalam pemberian puji dan tanggapan puji siswa bahasa asing di Kupang terhadap puji dalam bahasa Inggris. 20 mahasiswa EFL, yang berada di semester lima Program Studi Pendidikan Bahasa Inggris di Fakultas Keguruan dan Ilmu Pendidikan Universitas Katolik Widya Mandira, penelitian melalui tugas akhir Discourse (DCT) yang disebarluaskan secara online. Penelitian ini menggunakan teori yang diajukan oleh Holmes (1988) dan Herbert (1990) sebagai dasar untuk menganalisis topik puji serta berbagai jenis respons terhadap puji. Hasil pertama penelitian ini menunjukkan bahwa topik puji yang paling sering digunakan oleh EFL adalah: Kinerja/Keterampilan/Kemampuan 73 (55.72%), penampilan 32: (24.42%), Kepemilikan dan Kepribadian 13 (9.92%). Struktur yang digunakan oleh siswa EFL dalam memberikan puji meliputi: Kata ganti + is + (a/an) + (benar-benar) + frasa kata benda yang diikuti oleh kata sifat. Frasa kata benda + adalah/lihat (benar-benar) + kata sifat. Sementara itu, struktur yang tidak digunakan oleh siswa EFL dalam memberikan puji adalah: Bukan + frasa kata benda + kata sifat. Sedangkan respon terhadap puji yang paling sering digunakan oleh EFL adalah Tanda Penghargaan 20: (25.31%). Temuan kedua mengungkapkan bahwa tidak ada perbedaan yang signifikan antara pria dan wanita mengenai topik puji; sebagian besar dari mereka menggunakanannya secara setara. Ada tiga pola dalam pola sintaksis yang sering digunakan oleh laki-laki dan perempuan, yaitu: Frasa Kata Benda + Tampak/adalah + (benar-benar) + Kata Sifat; kamu + kata kerja + frase kata benda + (benar-benar) + kata keterangan; dan kata keterangan + frase kata benda. Berdasarkan hasil yang diteliti, responden pria dan wanita cenderung sering menggunakan kata “Terima kasih” dalam menanggapi puji. Ada struktur dalam menanggapi puji yang tidak digunakan oleh laki-laki dan perempuan, yaitu: Bukanakah + frase kata benda + kata sifat. Berdasarkan data yang dikumpulkan, terlihat bahwa baik partisipan laki-laki maupun perempuan mengikuti tren penelitian sebelumnya dengan pola Terima, Tolak, dan Hindari. Kedua kelompok lebih cenderung memilih opsi menerima dari pada menolak. Selain itu, kedua kelompok lebih menyukai dua jenis strategi CR: Token Apresiasi dan Puji Pengembalian. Di satu sisi, peserta perempuan lebih sering menggunakan strategi CRS yang tersirat dalam Ucapan Setuju, sementara peserta laki-laki lebih memilih menerapkan strategi CRS pada Akurasi Soal.
