

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter presents the conclusion and the suggestion of the study. Conclusion is in line with the problem statement and the objectives that have been formulated in this Chapter I, the concept and theory that have been decided in Chapter II, methods and techniques of the data analysis that have been applied in Chapter III, and the result of the data analysis that has been found in Chapter IV. Suggestion is done based on the significance of the study that has been stated in Chapter I, the finding in Chapter IV, and the conclusion presented in this chapter.

5.1 Conclusion

The final product of the data analysis of this study is the finding of the linguistics features of pluralization system of Manggarai Language. Linguistic feature means the formal grammatical system or lexicogrammatical system of Manggarai Language the shows plural meaning of the nouns denoted. In line with this the plural markers and other linguistics features as the consequence of the pluralization process of Manggarai Language are found. It is like a summary of what has been analyzed, described, and found in Chapter IV.

acu- acu ‘dog’ becomes acu situ ‘those dogs’, pus- pus ‘cat’ becomes pus situ ‘those cats’, lawo-lawo ‘mouse’ becomes lawo situ ‘those mice’.

The plural marking system exist in Manggarai Language. It is shown by the demonstrative pronouns. The demonstrative pronouns so'o ‘these’ is used to show or point the near by things to the speaker. The demonstrative situ ‘those’ is

1. used to show or point the far away things from the speaker. Example Acu so'o, Pus situ.
2. The numbers showing plural meaning in Manggarai Language are plural before the nouns pluralized. The example Sua acu so'o, Sua pus situ.
3. There is no partitives in Manggarai Language, equivalently translated as 'ekor' in Indonesia Language.
4. The demonstrative pronoun so'o 'these' and situ 'those' collocate and are before the plural nouns and the demonstrative pronoun ho'o 'this' and hitu 'that' collocate and are before the singular nouns. The example
Acu so'o 'these dogs'
Pus situ 'those cats'
Acu ho'o 'this dog'
Pus hitu 'that cat'

5.2 Suggestion.

In line with significant of the study and the result of the data analysis a number of suggestion would be offered to many people, both as an individual and an institution, in accordance with their role, responsibility, capacity, and capability in society.

1. The experts of linguistics and other related subjects are suggested to do continued study or similar study to confirm and extend the linguistics evidence in forms of pluralization of Manggarai Language.

2. Other researchers or reseracher candidates are suggested to design and to conduct other researches focusing on other morphological and syntactic process in Manggarai Language, beside pluralization system.
3. The speakers of Manggarai Language are suggested to be in bilingual or multilingual situation, speaking local language. Manggarai Language, national language: Indonesia Language, and Foreign Language, including and especially English, in proper situations.
