

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

5.1. Conclusion

Based on the results obtained the researcher have analyzed the request strategies in daily use performed by Indonesian English teachers through the Discourse Completion Test (DCT) via google form. It was found that there were 6 request strategies used by the participants. They are Hints, Willingnes & Ability, Need & Demand, Performatives, Imperatives, and Permission. It means that not all the strategies in Trosborg are used by the participants in making a request. It was also found that the most common request strategies used by the Indonesian English teachers in daily use is Willingness/Ability.

5.2. Suggestion

Finally the researcher made some suggestions, since this study is focused on the EFL English teachers and it was only limited number of teachers who participated in this study, it would be better to have more teachers who will participate in the future studies and the future researcher may be able to provide a wide range of situations that can be applied

However, since the present study focused only on the speech act of request, it would be better in the future research should investigate more on the other kinds of speech acts.
