CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

In this chapter the writer presents some the conclusions and suggestions of the study.

5.1. Conclusion

After analyzing and discussing about the students' errors in answering question in classroom interaction; the writer can conclude that :

1. The tenth grade students of SMAN 7 Kupang in the school year 2014/2015 make grammatical errors in answering questions. in facts the total types of errors in grammar are 53 times made by 31 students.
2. The types of grammatical errors in answering questions made by the tenth grade students of SMAN 7 Kupang in the school year 2014/2015 are omission, addition, misformation, misordering,
3. The students have a big problem with grammar, especially in answering questions. The most frequent errors in grammar are Omission 40 (75.47 %), Misformation 7 (13.20 %), Addition 4 (7.69 %) and Misordering 2 (3.77 %). Therefore the most common error in answering questions is Omission with 40 errors, (75.47).

5.2. Suggestion

1. For the teachers

The teacher should pay more attention and give more chance to the students to practice their English. In this occasion, the English teacher gives correction and clear explanation about the errors made by the students in answering questions. Furthermore the teacher should also help them to practice or make a simple conversation after learning English.

2. For the students

The students should learn more about the structure of English, just to minimize the errors, because based on the result they commonly made the errors in grammatical aspects.
